SALES ANALYTICS REPORT

E-Commerce Sales Funnel Drop-off Analysis

90,400 visitors · January–April 2015 · Home → Search → Payment → Confirmation

Prepared by Anicet Baraka Ciza · 5 November 2026

Executive Summary

0.50%

of visitors buy: 452 purchases from 90,400 visitors

1 · A sudden break

Purchases fell 75% on 1 March 2015 while traffic held at 22,600 users a month.

2 · A permanent gap

Desktop converts at 0.25%, a quarter of Mobile's 1.00%.

3 · Late-stage losses

92.5% of users who reach the payment page still don't confirm.

Business Problem

Traffic arrives, but only 1 visitor in 200 completes a purchase.

01

Where does the funnel lose users?

02

Do device and gender change behaviour?

03

Did anything shift over time?

04

What is each fix worth in purchases?

Data

Home page
90,400

→

Search page
45,200

→

Payment page
6,030

→

Confirmation
452

5 tables, 1 row per user

Loaded into MySQL 8.0 and joined into one master view with a 0/1 flag per stage.

Segments

First-visit date (Jan–Apr 2015), device (Desktop or Mobile) and gender.

Limit

No revenue data, so impact is measured in purchases.

Findings: 1 in 200 visitors buys

~94% of lost users

drop out at Home → Search and Search → Payment.

92.5% abandon at payment

These users were closest to buying.

Findings: Desktop converts at a quarter of Mobile's rate

67% of traffic, 33% of purchases

Desktop brings two-thirds of visitors but one-third of buyers.

Both commitment stages

Search → Payment: 20% vs 10%. Payment → Confirmation: 10% vs 5%.

Findings: purchases fell 75% on 1 March 2015

Mobile

Users who searched fell from about 80% to 20%.

Desktop

Search → payment fell from about 16% to 4%.

Traffic stayed flat at 22,600 users a month.

Recommendations

+272

Fix what changed on 1 March

Check releases, search or checkout redesigns, pricing and tracking, then reverse or fix.

2×

Audit the Desktop checkout

Compare with Mobile and review traffic sources. Matching Mobile lifts purchases from 452 to about 904.

Daily

Cut payment abandonment

Guest checkout, more payment options, upfront costs, cart-recovery messages and a daily funnel monitor.